

NOTICIAS

Ultrahot planets bust up molecules then rebuild them into clouds

The hottest planets in the universe are half star, half cloudy oasis. In the light, it's too hot for molecules to hold together, but they reform into clouds on the dark side

DETAILS

We're beginning to understand how some people can control HIV

A few people are able to keep the HIV virus in check for decades without getting ill. At last we're beginning to understand what's special about their bodies

DETAILS

Vultures that feed on rubbish dumps are making themselves sick

A study looking at the health of birds that supplement their diets at rubbish dumps and landfill sites suggests they may be paying heavy price for easy calories and weight gain

DETAILSIPSUM MAGNA TEMPUS